Course Description

This course is a survey of American literature from the late 19th Century to the present, which includes representative works from Literary Realism (1865-1914), the Modern Age (1914-1945), and the Postmodern Period (1946-present). In addition to reading representative works of authors of these periods, students, will also address historical, social, political, cultural and religious issues of the time. Reading assignments will include essays, novels, drama, poetry, and short-fiction of the time period, as well as criticism of the literature. Students will critically analyze these works in essays, exams, and research papers as assigned.

Textbooks & Other Resources or Links

Required:
“Last Exit To Brookly”, Hubert Selby, JR.,1964
“Citizen: An American Lyric”, Claudia Rankine, 2014

Course Requirements and Instructional Methods

Essay #2: An argumentative research paper focusing on appropriation in conceptual literature, specifically in the works of Kenneth Goldsmith and/or Vanessa Place. (Letter grade)

Essay #3: An argumentative research paper responding to issues found in “Citizen: An American Lyric”. (Letter grade)

Midterm & Final: An in-class essay responding to one of more of the texts assigned throughout the semester. (Quiz Grade)

Presentation: Near the due date of essays, each student will give a 4-6 minute presentation on his or her essay topic. Only one presentation throughout the semester is required. Students who are researching similar ideas may perform the presentation as a small group. The presentation can come in many forms, from traditional methods we are familiar with (Power Point, etc.), to more experimental ones such as creating a music video, a dramatic play, a documentary/mocumentary, a display of artifacts, etc. Guidelines will be established and examples will be given beforehand. Presentations are in no way a substitute for the assigned essays, so choose which topic you would like to present on wisely. (Letter grade)
Annotated Bibliography: One assignment will ask you to write an annotated bibliography instead of a works cited page. Following MLA guidelines, list sources and describe specifically what part of each source is relevant to your research paper and why/how you used it. (Letter grade)

Extra Credit: Throughout the semester there will be many ways to receive extra credit points. These points will only influence homework and quiz scores.

1) In-class writing/group activities: There will be a number of in-class writing assignments and group activities that are required and integral to the class. It is your responsibly to come prepared with a notebook and writing instrument. Please be sure to complete and submit all in-class writing assignments at the end of class. Failure to do so will affect your participation grade. These exercises cannot be made up.

2) All assignments (homework and essays) are due on the assigned date at the beginning of class or will be considered late.

3) Barring emergencies, late papers/homework will be marked down a letter grade for each class session they are missing. Assignments turned in late will also be handed back to students later than usual. If you have unusual circumstances discuss them with me.

4) All assignments must be completed satisfactorily. An assignment that does not follow instructions or is incomplete will receive zero credit.

Grading system:

90 + = A \quad 80 - 89 = B \quad 70 - 79 = C \\
60 - 69 = D \quad 59 - = F

Attendance

-A student who fails to attend the first meeting of a class will be dropped by the instructor as of the first official meeting of that class. Should readmission be desired, the student’s status will be the same as that of any other student who desires to add a class. It is the student’s responsibility to drop or officially withdraw from the class. See General Catalog for details.

-Regular attendance in all classes is expected of all students. A student whose continuous, unexcused absences exceed the number of hours the class is scheduled to meet per week (3) may be dropped. Students who meet or exceed this number will automatically receive zero credit for their participation grade.
Absences attributed to the representation of the college at officially approved events (conferences, contests, and field trips) will be counted as ‘excused’ absences.

Please avoid coming late to class. The majority of our quizzes occur at the start of class, so students who are consistently tardy will find their quiz grade heavily affected. If for any reason you have to leave early, inform me before lecture.

Classroom & Email Etiquette

Electronic Devices: Please turn off all cell phones during class. Please do not text or go online during class. Students who are consistently seen using their cell phones will lose participation points without warning. If you find it necessary to use a laptop, you must sit near one of the front rows.

Food and Drink are prohibited in all classrooms. Water bottles with lids/caps are the only exception. Additional restrictions will apply in labs.

Disruptive Students: Our classrooms are protected spaces for open, thoughtful exchange and respectful communication. Students who disrupt or interfere with a class may be sent out of the room and told to meet with the Campus Disciplinary Officer before returning to continue with coursework. Students who create works (including essays, presentations, or peer critiques) that espouse hateful or racist ideologies must also meet with the Campus Disciplinary Officer before returning to continue with coursework. Disciplinary procedures will be followed as outlined in the General Catalog. Students who are found to be chatting amongst each other—this includes signing—during lecture will also lose participation points without warning. If the problem is consistent, they will also be asked to leave the classroom.

Children and others in the classroom: Due to college rules and state laws, no one who is not enrolled in the class may attend, including children.

Email: Please email me at the address found above. Responses to email could take up to two days, or depending on the content not answered at all. This should in no way act as an excuse to turn in any work late. Under no circumstances should students email assignments, or inquire about their current grade in the class. If you are absent, check the syllabus for due dates, Canvas for handouts, or ask your peers for lecture notes.

Academic Honesty

Academic honesty in the advancement of knowledge requires that all students and instructors respect the integrity of one another’s work and recognize the important of acknowledging and safeguarding intellectual property.

There are many different forms of academic dishonesty. The following kinds of honesty violations and their definitions are not meant to be exhaustive. Rather, they are intended to serve as examples of unacceptable academic conduct.

Plagiarism is taking and presenting as one’s own the writings or ideas of others, without citing the source. You should understand the concept of plagiarism and keep it in mind when taking exams and preparing written materials. If you do not understand how to “cite a source” correctly, you must ask for help.
Cheating is defined as fraud, deceit, or dishonesty in an academic assignment, or using or attempting to use materials, or assisting others in using materials that are prohibited or inappropriate in the context of the academic assignment in question.

Anyone caught cheating or plagiarizing will receive a zero (0) on the exam or assignment, and the instructor may report the incident to the Campus Disciplinary Officer, who may place related documentation in a file. Repeated acts of cheating may result in an F in the course and/or disciplinary action. Please refer to the General Catalog for more information on academic dishonesty or other misconduct. Acts of cheating include, but are not limited to, the following: (a) plagiarism; (b) copying or attempting to copy from others during an examination or on an assignment; (c) communicating test information with another person during an examination; (d) allowing others to do an assignment or portion of an assignment; (e) using a commercial term paper service.

Student Equity Program

The Student Equity Program strives to improve Imperial Valley College’s success outcomes, particularly for students who have been historically underrepresented and underserved. The college identifies strategies to monitor and address equity issues, making efforts to mitigate any disproportionate impact on student success and achievement. Our institutional data provides insight surrounding student populations who historically, are not fully represented. Student Equity addresses disparities and/or disproportionate impact in student success across disaggregated student equity groups including gender, ethnicity, disability status, financial need, Veterans, foster youth, homelessness, and formerly incarcerated students. The Student Equity Program provides direct supportive services to empower students experiencing insecurities related to food, housing, transportation, textbooks, and shower access. We recognize that students who struggle meeting their basic needs are also at an academic and economic disadvantage, creating barriers to academic success and wellness. We strive to remove barriers that affect IVC students’ access to education, degree and certificate completion, successful completion of developmental math and English courses, and the ability to transfer to a university. Contact: 760.355.5736 or 760.355.5733 Building 100.

The Student Equity Program also houses IVC’s Homeless Liaison, who provides direct services, campus, and community referrals to students experiencing homelessness as defined by the McKinney-Vento Act. Contact: 760.355.5736 Building 100.
