Course Requirements and Instructional Methods

Lecture Questions Guide,

Each Lecture Question must be one page length. The first paragraph must answer the question, additionally; the second paragraph must be on your opinions about the topic.

The students will answer and turn in 8 Lecture questions for the Winter 2017 semester. Each question must be turn in a week after it has been assigned.

To get all complete points on the lecture questions I recommend to stick to the facts that we discuss in class. Your paper should be in 12-point Times New Roman format at all times. Font size and style mismatches are automatic red marks on your paper and will result in a lower grade. You are expected to proofread your assignments before and after you print it, make sure the language and prose of your statements does three things: make sense, is grammatically correct and is in proper syntax. Deliver competent phrases that do not detract but amplify your writing, the overall language level of the paper must be on a college level.

Research Project: Due January 31.

Part 1: You will choose a picture or painting, and will write two to three pages of a pretend letter. Then you will explain the historical event that is happening as if you (or someone you know) are living it.

Part 2: Write a three to four page research explaining the following: What is going on in the picture? Is there a historical event going on in the picture or drawing? When and where it was taken or drawn? Why is it important to write a letter of that picture or drawing? Do you know who are the people in the picture or drawing? In addition, do you identify with the people in the picture?

Sources: You must use at least four sources in order to get full points. Sources can be Internet articles (NO Wikipedia), Newspaper or magazine articles, and books. You can also use the lecture notes and Visions of America: A History of the United States, as a source. The sources are going to help you understand and explain what happened in the United States and the world during the time the picture or drawing was done.

Picture or paintings must be from the Reconstruction (after the U.S. Civil War) to the late 1980s.

I will expect a Bibliography and citations on the sources (we will look how to make one bibliography and how to cite your sources in class).

Format: The format of the assignment can be written in MLA or Chicago Style. 12 point Times New Roman format at all times.

Also when turning in the postcard-project I will like a printed copy of the picture or painting used in the assignment.

I will give you examples of how to do the assignment in class so do not worry.

Mid-Term and Final.

First part of the exam will be 15 multiple-choice questions. The questions will be based on the readings and lecture.

Second part of the exam will be a written essay. There are going to be two essay questions, you would only choose one out of the two. The essay questions would be based on the readings and lecture notes. In the essay, the student will identify important historical figures that shape the political, economic, and social life of the United States during the last decades of the 19th century and the 20th century.

You may use a pencil or lead pencil, and bring a blue book.

Out of Class Assignments: The Department of Education policy states that one (1) credit hour is the amount of student work that reasonably approximates not less than one hour of class time and two (2) hours of out-of-class time per week over the span of a semester. WASC has adopted a similar requirement.

- A student who fails to attend the first meeting of a class or does not complete the first mandatory activity of an online class will be dropped by the instructor as of the first official meeting of that class. Should readmission be desired, the student's status will be the same as that of any other student who desires to add a class. It is the student's responsibility to drop or officially withdraw from the class. See General Catalog for details.
- Regular attendance in all classes is expected of all students. A student whose continuous, unexcused absences exceed the number of hours the class is scheduled to meet per week may be dropped. For online courses, students who fail to complete required activities for two consecutive weeks may be considered to have excessive absences and may be dropped.

Academic Honesty

Academic honesty in the advancement of knowledge requires that all students and instructors respect the integrity of one another's work and recognize the important of acknowledging and safeguarding intellectual property.

There are many different forms of academic dishonesty. The following kinds of honesty violations and their definitions are not meant to be exhaustive. Rather, they are intended to serve as examples of unacceptable academic conduct.

- Plagiarism is taking and presenting as one's own the writings or ideas of others, without citing the source. You should understand the concept of plagiarism and keep it in mind when taking exams and preparing written materials. If you do not understand how to "cite a source" correctly, you must ask for help.
- Cheating is defined as fraud, deceit, or dishonesty in an academic assignment, or using or attempting to use materials, or assisting others in using materials that are prohibited or inappropriate in the context of the academic assignment in question.

Anyone caught cheating or plagiarizing will receive a zero (0) on the exam or assignment, and the instructor may report the incident to the Campus Disciplinary Officer, who may place related documentation in a file. Repeated acts of cheating may result in an F in the course and/or disciplinary action. Please refer to the General Catalog for more information on academic dishonesty or other misconduct. Acts of cheating include, but are not limited to, the following: (a) plagiarism; (b) copying or attempting to copy from others during an examination or on an assignment; (c) communicating test information with another person during an examination; (d) allowing others to do an assignment or portion of an assignment; (e) using a commercial term paper service.
