Catalogue Course Description:

This course is a survey of American history from the pre-Columbian era to the end of Reconstruction. This course will cover the major political, economic, social, gender, racial, cultural and intellectual transformation of the colonial and early American eras. At the completion of this course students will have a broad understanding of the most important ideas, personalities, movements, and events in the colonial and early American periods.

Student Learning Outcomes: Upon completion of this course students will be able to (1) identify and recall key information from a historical text and/ or documentary film; (2) describe the causes and/or impact of a historical event; and (3) evaluate a primary or secondary history source.

Textbook: J. Faragher et al., Out of Many: A History of the American People, Vol. 1. 5th Edition. Prentice Hall, 2009.

I have placed the following novels on reserve; there are copies available for purchase at the bookstore:

Hawthorne, Nathaniel. The Scarlet Letter, abridged and adapted by Janice Green; Belmont, Calif.: Fearon Education Group, c1991; Stowe, Harriet Beecher. Uncle Tom's Cabin. New York: Viking Press, c1982.

REQUIREMENTS & GRADING:

Students will be responsible for material covered in lectures, as well as for the assigned readings. Students must finish the week's readings and come to class prepared to discuss the material. Students are expected to come to class on time and stay for the entire duration of the class period. If you are a few minutes late or choose to leave before class is over, you will lose all credit for class participation for that day. Class participation is very important and will count for 20% of the total grade.

Assignments will consist of two 4-6 page analytical papers (8.5 by 11 inch paper, 12-point font, double-spaced with 1 inch margins), a midterm, and final exam. The first paper is due at the end of class on Tuesday, September 18. The second paper is due at the end of class on Tuesday, November 6. Each paper will count for 20% of the total grade. Each paper will be assessed in terms of both content and proficiency in written expression. Students are required to give a 10 to 15 minute oral presentation related to their second paper topic. More specific instructions will be given about these paper assignments at a later date. Late papers will be lowered a half-grade per day, (i.e., "A" to "A-") beginning after class on the due date. Only in cases of documented medical emergencies will students be allowed to turn in papers on a later date.

The in-class midterm will count for 15% of the total grade, and the final exam 25%. The midterm and final exam will consist of multiple-choice questions, short answer identifications, and one or more essay questions; both exams are cumulative and cover all relevant material in lectures, readings, and films. Paper topics and exam study guides will be handed out well in advance.

Assignments will be proportionally weighed as follows in determining your final course grade:

First Paper15%	Due 9-18-12 at end of lecture
Second Paper25%	Due 11-6-12 at end of lecture
In-Class Midterm15%	10-11-12 (bluebook(s) and a scantron are required)
Final Exam25%	12-6-12 (bluebook(s) and a scantron are required)
Attendance & Participation20%	Attendance is mandatory

Grading is based on a 100 point scale on all graded work, 100%-90% = A; 89%-80% = B; 79%-70% = C; 69%-60% = D; and 59%- or less = F. Please note that more than three absences will result in a failing grade. Absences must be excused in advance, and if based on illness, accompanied with a doctor's note. You may be dropped if you have three or more unexcused absences. No early final exams are possible. No Incompletes will be given. It is your responsibility to drop the class. Failure to do so may result in an "F" as a final grade. Last day to withdraw with a "W" is on November 10, 2012. Feel free to contact me to discuss any problems you are having with the course.

Any student with a documented disability who may need additional academic accommodations should notify the instructor immediately or contact the Disabled Student Programs and Services Office at 760.355.6312. (DSP&S, Room 2117, Health Sciences Building)
