Course Description:

This course is designed to introduce you to the main concepts, theories and perspectives of social psychology. This course surveys social psychology as both a science and an applied discipline. This course will examine human behavior and thinking in the social world. Topics to be covered include research methods, the self, social cognition, person perception, attitudes, genes, culture & gender, conformity, persuasion, group influence, prejudice, aggression, attraction & intimacy, altruism, and conflict/peacemaking.

Course Objectives:

The objectives of this course are: 1) To critically think about and gain knowledge of the main theories and concepts of social psychology; and 2) To leave this course with a basic understanding of how these social psychology theories are present in and affect our functioning in our daily social world.

Course Format:

This course will consist of a combination of lectures, class discussion, assigned readings, videos, group and individual projects and performance on quizzes and exams.

Course Requirements:

Attendance and Class Participation. You are expected to attend class and stay for the whole period. You will be expected to demonstrate an understanding of the assigned reading by actively participating in class discussions. If you miss a class, it is your responsibility to get class notes from a fellow student. If you are going to miss a class, please call me before class to let me know. You may be dropped from class if you are absent consecutively for the equivalent of one week of instruction, but DO NOT count on the instructor dropping you. If you want to drop the class, it is your responsibility. Please check your I.V.C. e-mail and/or Blackboard announcements before class in case the instructor will not be attending class that day.

Thought Papers. There will be three (3) thought papers due at various times during the semester. These are essays of 1-2 pages, which will be based on the readings and class material. Late papers will not be accepted. I DO NOT accept thought papers by e-mail. Thought papers should address the following: 1) A provocative or interesting idea regarding social psychology from the text, class discussion, an article from the internet or magazine, and/or a television program, from your point of view. Don't provide a review of the reading/program, but your own thoughts regarding the topic. The main focus of thought papers is for you to learn to think critically about social psychology. The intention of the assignment is to get some ideas down and then begin exploring your ideas. You do not have to write what you think I would agree with or what is necessarily true, you just need to justify your ideas and statements with explanations.

Quizzes. Six (6) quizzes will be given during the semester. I will take the five (5) quizzes with the highest scores to determine your points. Since I will be throwing out the one lowest score for quizzes, no make-up quizzes will be given. Each quiz will be worth 10 points.

Assignments/Group Work. There will be approximately two (2) assignments given throughout the semester. More information will be given about these assignments at a later date. Each assignment will be worth 10 points.

Student Learning Outcome. In order to demonstrate your understanding of social psychology, you will be required to explain how social thinking (beliefs, judgements and attitudes) develops through interaction in the social world (ILO1); (ILO2); (ILO3); (ILO5)

Exams. Four (4) exams will be given. Exams will consist of multiple choice, fill in the blank, short answer and essay questions from the textbook, lectures and videos. No make-up exams will be given unless you have called me PRIOR to the exam and let me know you will not be able to take the exam. If you contact me prior to the exam, you will have one week to make-up the exam. Each exam will be worth 100 points. Please bring a #2 pencil and a scantron to each examination.

Academic Dishonesty:

Please read and understand this section fully. Academic dishonesty (cheating) of any type will not be tolerated in my classroom. If a student is caught committing any type of academic dishonesty he or she will be given a 0 for the assignment/exam and will be reported to Student Affairs for further handling of the matter. In addition, unless you have made prior arrangements with the instructor, leaving during the class period or while watching a movie will be counted as an absence.
