Course Description

Early World History is a broad survey of the diverse societies of Africa, Asia, Europe, the Americas, and Oceania from prehistory through the 1400s. This course seeks to describe the emergence and development of civilizations, societies, trade, religions and cultures, and to recognize the interconnections between different peoples and across time.

This course is the first part in a two-semester survey of world history from prehistoric to present times. Because of the scope of this course, we will be unable to explore any one region or civilization in depth. Instead, we will attempt to look at the history of the world in order to understand the emergence of civilizations, societies, religions and cultures, and to recognize the connections between different peoples and across time. Though an understanding of “what happened when” is critical as a foundation, we will go beyond names and dates. Instead, we will look at the social bonds and conflicts created by culture, religion and trade. We will discuss the patterns of society and government that our ancestors developed in order to meet their desire for political and social stability. By the end of the course, students will understand the main trends in world history from its beginnings until early modern times.

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon course completion, the successful student will have acquired new skills, knowledge, and or attitudes as demonstrated by being able to:

- Identify and describe the chief political, social, economic and/or cultural characteristics of important ancient and pre-modern civilizations, cultures, and societies.
- Read, evaluate, and analyze primary and secondary historical sources and display an understanding of these sources competently and persuasively in a written and/or oral report, on topics relevant to early world history.
- Display an understanding of world geography relevant to early world history and successfully explain how the physical and natural environment has both affected and been affected by human societies.

Course Objectives

Upon satisfactory completion of the course, students will be able to:

- Describe the political, social, economic, cultural, and religious characteristics of the major societies, civilizations, states and cultures of the world from prehistory to around 1500 CE.
- Describe the patterns of trade and cross-cultural interaction during different eras in world history.
- Explain the origins, basic belief structures, and patterns of expansion of the major world religions before 1500 CE.
- Describe the key scientific and technological developments of ancient and pre-modern world history, and analyze and explain how these scientific and technological innovations diffused throughout different human societies and changed and influenced cultures and civilizations.
- Analyze and describe cultural practices and expressions, such as art, literature, religion and music, as well as patterns of family life and gender relations of ancient and pre-modern societies.
- Exhibit a basic knowledge of world geography and explain how the physical and natural environment has influenced patterns of settlement, the emergence of different types of societies and cultures, and how human use of the environment has contributed to both the success and collapse of civilizations.
- Exhibit awareness of how different people in different times and places have viewed themselves, viewed others, and viewed the world around them.
- Demonstrate an understanding of civilization through multiple analytical categories such as race, class, gender, and ethnicity.
- Demonstrate the ability to read, understand, and interpret primary and secondary historical sources, and to compose an argument, either in a written or oral report, which uses these sources, as appropriate, for support.

Course Requirements and Instructional MethodsLecture Questions Guide, (All 8 questions must be turn in by January 31)

Each Lecture Question must be one page length. The first paragraph must answer the question, additionally; the second paragraph must be on your opinions about the topic.

The students will be given 12 lecture questions through the Summer 17 semester. In addition, they will only answer and turn in 8 Lecture questions for the Summer 2017 semester. The lecture Questions would be do by the end of the semester. However, I recommend not wait until the last week of the semester to turn them in.

To get all complete points on the lecture questions I recommend to stick to the facts that we discuss in class. Your paper should be in 12-point Times New Roman format at all times. Font size and style mismatches are automatic red marks on your paper and will result in a lower grade. You are expected to proofread your assignments before and after you print it, make sure the language and prose of your statements does three things: make sense, is grammatically correct and is in proper syntax. Deliver competent phrases that do not detract but amplify your writing, the overall language level of the paper must be on a college level.

Research Project: Due January 31

Pick a topic one of any of the societies we are going to see in class (Romans, Chinese, Babylonians, Etc.). In addition, write a Five to Four research assignment explaining the following, how does their political, social, and economic structure, work in their society? What agricultural methods did they use? Did they get along with neighboring societies? What role did the military play in their society? What was the major religion? Did they get to have art, literature, and schools? What where their major cities? Finally, did all citizens had equal rights?

Sources: You must use at least five sources in order to get full points. Sources can be Internet articles (no wikipedia), Newspaper or magazine articles, and books. You can also use the class reading as a source. I recommend you use at least one of the assign readings from class.

I will expect a Bibliography (we will look how to make one bibliography in class).

Format: The format of the assignment can be written in MLA. The letter must have at least four citations. 12 point Times New Roman format at all times.

I will give you examples of how to do the assignment in class so, do not worry.

Mid-Term and Final.

The exam will be 10 multiple-choice questions. The questions will be based on the readings and lecture.

The other part of the exam will be a written essay. The essay questions would be based on the readings and lecture notes. In the essay, the student will identify important historical figures that shape the political, economic, and social life of the societies we talk about in class.

You may use a "Cheat Sheet" - for each exam each. The student can bring one page of notes (a single 8 1/2 x 11 sheet of paper, hand written only, on one side of the paper, no typed, no electronic, no photocopies)

You may use a pencil or lead pencil, and bring a BLUE BOOK.

Make Up Exams

You must contact me no later than the day of the exam, preferably sooner, if you will miss a test. You must provide proof that you could not come to school (doctor's note, court appearance notice, service orders, etc.) to be eligible for a makeup exam.

Make up exams must be completed within 1 calendar days of the student's return to school from absence. You must schedule an appointment at the Study Skill Center (760) 760-355-6390.

Please note that each exam represents 25% of your final course grade. Therefore, if you miss an exam and do not make it up, the best grade you can get in the course is 75%, a C, and that is only if you achieve 100% on the other exam.

Throughout my many years teaching I have observed that students who miss an exam and do not make it up almost always get a F in the course, at best a D. Obviously, if you intend to pass the course, you must take all the exams.

Course Grading Based on Course Objectives

This course is graded on the following scale:

A = 100-90%, B = 89-80%, C = 79-70%, D = 69-60%, F = 59% or lower

A = 400-360, B = 359-320, C = 319-280, D = 279-240, F = 239 or lower

Grades will be based on the following percentages:

Mid Term = 25%

Final = 25 %

Questions = 20%

Research= 25%

Participation = 5%

Mid Term = 100 Points

Final = 100 Points

Questions = 80 points

Research = 100 points

Participation = 20 Points

Total of points 400

Attendance

- If you miss either, of the first two class sessions, you will be dropped and your place will be given away to another student.
- A student who fails to attend the first meeting of a class or does not complete the first mandatory activity of an online class will be dropped by the instructor as of the first official meeting of that class. Should readmission be desired, the student's status will be the same as that of any other student who desires to add a class. It is the student's responsibility to drop or officially withdraw from the class. See General Catalog for details.
- Regular attendance in all classes is expected of all students. A student whose continuous, unexcused absences exceed the number of hours the class is scheduled to meet per week may be dropped. For online courses, students who fail to complete required activities for two consecutive weeks may be considered to have excessive absences and may be dropped.
- Absences attributed to the representation of the college at officially approved events (conferences, contests, and field trips) will be counted as 'excused' absences.

Academic Honesty

Academic honesty in the advancement of knowledge requires that all students and instructors respect the integrity of one another's work and recognize the important of acknowledging and safeguarding intellectual property.

There are many different forms of academic dishonesty. The following kinds of honesty violations and their definitions are not meant to be exhaustive. Rather, they are intended to serve as examples of unacceptable academic conduct.

- Plagiarism is taking and presenting as one's own the writings or ideas of others, without citing the source. You should understand the concept of plagiarism and keep it in mind when taking exams and preparing written materials. If you do not understand how to "cite a source" correctly, you must ask for help.
- Cheating is defined as fraud, deceit, or dishonesty in an academic assignment, or using or attempting to use materials, or assisting others in using materials that are prohibited or inappropriate in the context of the academic assignment in question.

Anyone caught cheating or plagiarizing will receive a zero (0) on the exam or assignment, and the instructor may report the incident to the Campus Disciplinary Officer, who may place related documentation in a file. Repeated acts of cheating may result in an F in the course and/or disciplinary action. Please refer to the General Catalog for more information on academic dishonesty or other misconduct. Acts of cheating include, but are not limited to, the following: (a) plagiarism; (b) copying or attempting to copy from others during an examination or on an assignment; (c) communicating test information with another person during an examination; (d) allowing others to do an assignment or portion of an assignment; (e) using a commercial term paper service.
